Overview

Travelport Rapid Reprice provides Travel Agency users with an automated process to re-price air tickets when a traveller wishes to make a voluntary change to their flight arrangements either before travel or during travel. The application calculates any additional collection and penalty fees associated with the change, eliminating any time consuming manual calculations required for ticket exchanges. Airline participation is dependent on each airline filing specific Category 31 data via ATPCO / SITA.

Travelport is pleased to announce the addition of Air New Zealand (NZ) to its growing list of airlines participating in Travelport Rapid Reprice. Please refer to ASK Travelport answer ID AN6047 for the full current listing.

Customer benefit

- Provide Travelport Galileo, Travelport Apollo and Travelport Worldspan subscribers the use of Travelport Rapid Reprice to reissue a ticket when a customer makes a voluntary change to their Air New Zealand domestic and international itineraries.
- Reissue results based on the airlines’ intent as coded by Air New Zealand in ATPCO Category 31 – Voluntary Changes filings
